Weekly Update

We had a great start after break this week in 2nd grade! The students began a new unit in math and will be focusing on Fractions over the next two weeks. We also received several Flat Stanleys and have started sharing a few each day! We will put the Flat Stanleys on display for a few weeks and then send the packages home sometime in early May.

Students also received their First Communion Song and Reading Parts this week. We will be singing the more current song, "All the People Said Amen" by Matt Maher. Feel free to listen to and practice the song at home! The children voted to sing this song for First Communion so it is certainly a favorite. Also, please don't forget to practice your child's reading part over the next few weeks. I recommend helping them with voice projection and enunciation while practicing for the reading parts.

I wish everyone a lovely weekend! ☺
